Broadley Rees Hogan 2016 Corporate Counsel Seminar

This is the ideal event for senior managers, managing directors, in-house counsel and company secretaries to come together, hear about challenges they face in representing their companies, and perhaps learn new ways to make them more effective managers.

The seminar will be held over the course of the morning in our Kingsford Smith board room and provides the opportunity for attendees to get to know us and spend time with other managers, in-house lawyers and company secretaries. CLE points may be applicable.

This seminar is designed to equip participants to add value to their businesses by providing insight and practical tips on the day to day risks and risk management.

This event is one of a series that Broadley Rees Hogan will host to support our clients, contacts and colleagues.
